Remember we sent the policy to NMOGA membership. If companies aren't members, they may have not been notified. Did BLM provide to third party vendors?

I'm thinking a meeting with that particular company is the right thing to do.

Another option would be to provide me that company name and I can send something out asking operators if they're using that company to make sure they communicate the new policy and make sure they are in compliance.

Well maybe we need to make a special one. We are getting some complains from ranchers on a(water provider company) not following policy procedures and maybe we need to meet with that particular company.

Hello,

It probably will be the week of April 9th when next NMOGA public lands meeting is. Will that work?
